We're here to help
Information you need
All in one place

In Semester 1, 2015, the UNSW HelpZone will provide you with information face to face

The UNSW HelpZone will roll on from the Getting Started service and will be your port of call for information and assistance with key UNSW support services all in one place.

At the UNSW HelpZone you can get IT and Library support, pickup your ID card and get help with navigating online services and systems.

If you need information about enrolment, key dates and University processes like exams and applying for documents, or something as simple as directions around campus - the UNSW HelpZone staff will be there to assist you.

You can also visit us for information on what support and development services are available to you. Or if you're just not sure what you need or where you need to go - pop in and we will help you!
